

2010 ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP DUES STATEMENT

The Jean Piaget Society, established in 1970, has an international, interdisciplinary membership of scholars, teachers and researchers interested in exploring the nature of the developmental construction of human knowledge.

The Society's aim is to provide an open forum, through symposia, books, and other publications, for the presentation and discussion of scholarly work on issues related to human knowledge and its development. The Society further encourages the application of advances in the understanding of development to education and other domains.

For 2010 the Jean Piaget Society offers a complete package of membership benefits at a reasonable price. Members will receive the 2010 JPS Volume (a $70 value if purchased individually), and four issues of our official journal Cognitive Development (an $150 value if subscribed to individually). Residents of certain countries are eligible for a discount on membership fees. For details visit our web site: www.piaget.org/membership.html
